His Excellency's Anſwer.

Gentlemen,

I Receive, with the ſincereſt Pleaſure, this affectionate Declaration of your Approbation and Eſteem. I have, on all Occaſions, uſed my beſt Endeavours to promote the Welfare and Happineſs of this Kingdom; and, I flatter myſelf, they have not been without Succeſs. It gives me the higheſt Satisfaction, that my conſtant Reſidence has been agreeable to you; and I ſhall be happy to prolong it amongſt a People, who have given me ſo many Proofs of their Regard and Attachment. In all Places, and in all Situations, you may be aſſured of my Attention to your Intereſts, and that I ſhall continue to repreſent to His Majeſty, in the ſtrongeſt Manner, your Affection to His Perſon, your Attachment to His Government, and your Duty to your Country.

Dublin Caſtle, May 18, 1771.

This Day his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the Houſe of Peers; and being ſeated on the Throne with the uſual Ceremony, his Excellency ſent for the Commons, and gave the Royal Aſſent to the following Bills:

An Act for reviving, continuing, and amending ſeveral temporary Statutes.

An Act for allowing further Time to Perſons in Offices or Employments to qualify themſelves, purſuant to an Act, intitled, An Act to prevent the further Growth of Popery.

An Act for directing the Application of the Sum of Twenty-eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Pounds, granted the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, to be applied to ſuch Publick Works, and other Purpoſes, as ſhould be directed by Parliament.

An Act to prevent Combinations to raiſe the Price of Coals in the City of Dublin.

An Act to prevent the pernicious Practice of Burning Bricks within the City of Dublin, or the Neighbourhood thereof.

1209

An Act for Puniſhing ſuch Perſons as ſhall do Injuries and Violences to the Perſons or Properties of His Majeſty's Subjects, with Intent to hinder the Exportation of Corn.

An Act to repeal an Act, intitled, An Act for the Relief of Debtors, with reſpect to the Impriſonment of their Perſons.

An Act for reviving, continuing, and amending ſeveral temporary Statutes, and for other Purpoſes.

An Act to explain and amend an Act, paſſed in the Fifth Year of His Majeſty King George the Third, intitled, An Act for amending the Publick Roads.

An Act to enable the Speaker of the Houſe of Commons to iſſue his Warrants to make out new Writs for the Choice of Members to ſerve in Parliament, in the Room of ſuch Members as ſhall die during the Receſs of Parliament.

An Act to oblige Ships more effectually to perform their Quarantine, and for the better preventing the Plague being brought from Foreign Parts into Ireland, and to hinder the Spreading of Infection.

An Act to regulate the Trials of controverted Elections, or Returns of Members to ſerve in Parliament.

An Act for continuing certain Laws, heretofore made for the Improvement of His Majeſty's Revenue, and the more effectual preventing Frauds therein.

And to One Private Bill.

And then his Excellency was pleaſed to make a Speech to both Houſes of Parliament, which is as follows:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I Cannot put an End to this Seſſion of Parliament, without returning you my ſincereſt Thanks for the great Diſpatch which you have given to the Publick Buſineſs.

The many good Laws which have now received the Royal Aſſent, are the moſt honourable Proofs of the faithful Performance of your important Duty, and of your ſucceſsful Solicitude for the Happineſs of your Country.

In the ſhort Interval between this and the next Meeting of Parliament, you will conſider what may be further done to promote the Welfare and Proſperity of this Kingdom.

The Laws for making out new Writs for the Choice of Members to ſerve in Parliament, and for regulating the Tryals of controverted Elections, have, I flatter myſelf, nearly compleated the great Improvement made in your Conſtitution by the Bill for limiting the Duration of Parliaments; and I had a particular Satisfaction in giving the Royal Aſſent to that for the better Performance of Quarantine, the Importance of which towards ſecuring the Lives of His Majeſty's Subjects, is ſo great and viſible, that I cannot doubt of its being duly and faithfully carried into Execution.

I congratulate with you upon the Proſpect, which, by His Majeſty's Wiſdom and Magnanimity, we now have, of the general Tranquility of Europe, in which this Kingdom is, at all Times, eſſentially intereſted.

By the Continuance of this great Bleſſing you will be fully at Leiſure to give your Attention to the Induſtry, Morals and Religion of the People, and to a regular and virtuous Obſervance and Execution of the Laws.

Your Regard to thoſe great Objects, in your ſeveral Situations, will be the moſt acceptable Return you can make to His Majeſty for His Tenderneſs and Humanity to His People, in preſerving them from the dreadful Calamities of War, and in continuing to them every Bleſſing of Peace and Liberty under the beſt Laws and the mildeſt Government.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

Notwithſtanding a conſiderable unforeſeen Deficiency in the Supplies granted laſt Seſſion of Parliament, I have adhered to my Reſolution of not calling upon you, at this Time, for any further Aid, being determined to ſhew that His Majeſty's gracious Intention in aſſembling you together was ſolely in Compliance with the Wiſhes of His People, and not for the Purpoſe of aſking new Supplies: I know you have, at all Times, the ſtrongeſt Diſpoſitions to ſupport His Majeſty's Government; Experience has given me the beſt grounded Confidence in your Duty and Loyalty, and I am perſuaded that in the next Seſſion, when there will be more Time and a better Opportunity to take this Subject into your Conſideration, you will make every proper Proviſion for His Majeſty's Service, and for the internal Welfare and Improvement of your Country.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your obliging Approbation of my Conduct, and the Satisfaction you expreſs at my Reſidence amongſt you, are very acceptable to me. I am happy in this Circumſtance, as it has enabled me, from my own Knowledge, to declare the unſhaken Zeal of His Majeſty's faithful Subjects of Ireland for the Honor and Dignity of His Crown, their inviolable Attachment to his Perſon, Family, and Government, and their conſtant and affectionate Regard for their Country; all which I ſhall continue to repreſent in the fulleſt and moſt faithful Manner. It is my Duty to preſerve entire the moſt confidential Intercourſe between our excellent Sovereign and his People of this Kingdom; let it be your's, on your Return to your ſeveral Counties, to diſcountenance and defeat every Attempt that may be made to diſturb the Minds of the People with groundleſs Suſpicion and Diſtruſt; and I earneſtly recommend it to you to uſe your beſt Endeavour to promote Concord, Harmony, and that firm Truſt in Government, ſo eſſentially neceſſary to the Tranquility, Happineſs, and true Intereſt of this Kingdom.

After which the Lord Chancellor, by his Excellency's Command, ſaid;

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Pleaſure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Tueſday the 2d Day of July next, to be then here held. And this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tueſday the 2d Day of July next.

IN Purſuance of the Directions of an Act paſſed in the Tenth Year of the Reign of His preſent Majeſty King George the Third, intituled, "An Act to enable the Speaker of the "Houſe of Commons to iſſue his Warrants to "make out new Writs for the Choice of Mem-"bers to ſerve in Parliament, in the Room of "ſuch Members as ſhall die during the Receſs "of Parliament," I do hereby give Notice, that the Death of Richard Clive, Eſquire, late Member of Parliament for the Borough of Montgomery, hath been certified to me in Writing, under the Hands of two Members of Parliament; and that I ſhall iſſue my Warrant to the Clerk of the Crown, to make out a new Writ for the Electing of a Burgeſs to ſerve in this preſent Parliament for the ſaid Borough of Montgomery, in the Room of the ſaid Richard Clive, Eſquire, deceaſed, at the End of Fourteen Days after the Inſertion of this Notice in the Gazette.
